Course Description:

This course offers the student an opportunity to view film as an art form and write about the experience. It includes a basic overview of the role of the director, the screenplay, performance, music, editing and other areas of creativity that are a part of film. A minimum of 12 major written assignments are required using a variety of formats, including the essay, reaction response, journal response, direct application response, and film review.

Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to:

- analyze & interpret various production values in film
- create film presentations showing an understanding of the production values
- analyze the various professional roles involved in film production
- analyze & evaluate the use of film techniques & shots
- understand & identify special effects
- examine & differentiate the characteristics & techniques employed in various genres
- discuss film as it reflects and influences the attitudes, values, behaviors, myths, and preoccupations that define a given culture & the effects it has on the individual
- write film responses with skill with an understanding of audience
- have an enhanced enjoyment of film

Materials:

Students will need a 3-ring folder or binder, loose leaf paper or notebook, and blue or black ink pens. A flash drive to save work is not required but recommended. Materials need to be brought to class every day.

Class Absences:

Class attendance is essential for success. If a student is absent, he or she will be responsible for renting the movie and watching it on his or her own.

Assessment:

Students will be evaluated on class participation, presentations, critical analyses, film reviews, video productions, journal responses, quizzes, tests, extra credit, and a final exam. Grades will be calculated according to a total point system.

ALL ESSAYS ARE REQUIRED TO BE TYPED.

The following scale applies:

A=90-100%

B=80-89%

C=70-79%

D=60-69%

F<60

Homework Policy:

In order to receive an A, work must be turned in on time. A paper one day late can earn a B at best. For papers turned in 2 days late or after, the maximum grade possible is a C.

All major assignments (projects and papers) are mandatory. Students failing to submit major assignments will receive a zero in the grade book and “MSG” in the comment column. Additionally, any major assignment scoring below a 70% (C) will receive an “INC.”

Those marks will remain in the grade book until the student completes the work at a grade level of 70% or above, thus demonstrating that the assessed academic standard has been met. No grade below a “C” will be acceptable.

A student who does not meet academic standards will:

- be asked why he/she did not do the work assigned;
- be assigned a prescriptive travel pass for TAP or after school tutoring;
- be required to attend extra help sessions - first during TAP and then before or after school;
- be assigned a detention if extra help sessions are skipped and assignment still has not been completed;
- revise work or retake tests until standards are met;
- not receive a grade of “A” if the assignment is not turned in on time;
- never receive an “F” on acceptable completion of assignment.

 Certain assignments will not be eligible for make-up or late credit. Examples include (but are not limited to) in-class assignments, worksheets, and short answer questions.
