

Subliminal Advertising

A technique of exposing consumers to product pictures, brand names, or other marketing stimuli without the consumers having conscious awareness.

Once exposed to a subliminal marketing stimulus, the consumer is believed to decode the information and act upon it without being able to acknowledge a communication stimulus.

We're about to reveal something you'll really drool over.

What a tease. Arby's® introduces exciting new menu items, including the RoadBurger™. It's the burger done better. Unfortunately, you'll have to wait until March for the full mouthwatering experience.

I'm thinking Arby's.™
