

Complete one of the following prompts:

Teenagers' actions are largely determined by their friends.

Teenagers' actions are not largely determined by their friends.

Parents have too much control over what teenagers do on weekends.

Parents do not have enough control over what teenagers do on weekends.

- Have a written plan of attack. Write numbered notes or an outline on this paper before you begin your response.
- In your notebook, write a 200-300 word response to your selected prompt. Use your best grammar, spelling and punctuation.
- Proofread and edit when you are finished or as you write.
- Since this is an in class writing assignment, you may make changes or corrections directly on your paper.